"The Pram"

This play begins in 1919 when Bridget takes her new granddaughter for a walk and meets a stranger in the park. Suffering the loss of her only son, Patrick, Bridget finds a sympathetic ear with Florence, but she may not be what she seems.

In 1969, Gladys also takes her grandson in a pram to the same park & meets a sad old woman who is looking for her lost daughter.

In 2019 Nora meets her brother Geoff & time will tell if this is the same pram with a very chequered past. Is time playing tricks or are all these incidents & people related?

"Sure FM"

Ethel Taylor runs a community radio program called "Community Diary" where she shares her love of old War-time songs with her listeners.

Kim & Tony are not so keen on Ethel's show and plans are afoot to get rid of Ethel & her show so that Kim & Tony can extend their 80s Tribute Show & Techno Music segment, respectively. Will Ethel be edged out by the younger generation or will she fight back?

"Ineligible Bachelor"

There are so many TV dating shows these days filled with beautiful but vapid people looking for their 15 minutes of fame; but not Mick Maguire—he's actually looking for true love! TV Producer, Grace Walsh thought she had seen it all till Mick found his way into her office to plead his case. Can this "good ol' boy" convince her that he's "The Bachelor" that Australia's been waiting for?
